Paper No:20061207
Application No:10/786157
Filing Date: February 26,2004

1. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed. It should be brief but technically accurate and descriptive, preferably from two to seven words. See 37 CFR 1.72(a).

2. Claims 1-12 are provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1-22 of copending Application No. 10/786164. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Controlling the boom angle based on several options is seen as the same as plural paths in 10/786164.

3. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The terminology of "angle relative to gravity" is unclear. Does applicant intent to be relative to ground ??

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2837

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fulton (5390104) and Ashworth (4179010).

Fulton teaches in figures 1-20, a suspended work station comprising a telescoping boom lift on a vehicle. A chassis 10 having wheels 20 and has pedestal 11, mounted on pillar 13 and has telescopic boom 15 mounted thereon. The boom has pivot 16 and remote from the pivot is workstation 17. Based on a detection of center of gravity and boom angles, the boom angle is set at vehicle drive. Operation of the boom will not be allowed if unsafe parameters are met.

Fulton does not illustrate a pivotally coupled main boom.

Ashworth teaches that to enhance positioning of a workbasket or tool, it is advantageous to provide a pivotally coupled main boom. Thus it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide a pivotally coupled main boom.

6. Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fulton et al and Ashworth as applied to claims 1-11 above, and further in view of Yoshimatsu et al (5251768).

Fulton and Ashworth do not illustrate inclinometers

Yoshimatsu et al teaches that it is common to utilize inclinometers to sense boom angles and rotation. Thus, to utilize known sensors would have been an obvious engineering design choice to one of ordinary skill in the art.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Rocke, Smith and Merz are cited to illustrate similar boom operators with angle control systems.

A shortened statutory period for response to this action is set to expire 3 months from the date of this letter.

Failure to respond within the period for response will cause the application to become abandoned. 35 U.S.C. 133
